England wants two Roo stars

By SID BALMAIN

English First Division club Ipswich Town will make a bid to sign Socceroos Greg Woodhouse and John Yzendoorn.

Both are in the national team that will meet Northern Ireland in a three-match series in Sydney tonight (Wednesday) in Melbourne on Sunday and in Adelaide next Wednesday.

Goalkeeper Woodhouse of APLA and midfielder Yzendoorn of Heidelberg United impressed Bobby Robson, manager of the England team that beat Australia 2-1 at the Sydney Cricket Ground last Saturday week.

Robson also is manager of Ipswich.

In an exclusive interview, Robson informed me of the details of the Ipswich bid.

He made it clear that he does not want to be unethical in his bid and does not want to torpedo Australia's World Cup plans.

What he wants is for the two brilliant young Aussies to join Ipswich for a spell at the end of the Australian season.

Australian goalkeeper Greg Woodhouse, deep in discussion with coach Rudi Gutendorf.

Instead of Woodhouse and Yzendoorn returning to Australia after their world tour in October, the shrewd English manager wants them to go to Ipswich for a couple of months to train with his team.

They would then be allowed to return to Australia for the important season ahead of them next year.

But if Ipswich decides to buy them and they want to join the English club, they would do so after Australia's World Cup qualifying commitments are over and once transfer negotiations had been completed between Ipswich, APLA and Heidelberg.

"I think that both of these youngsters have a big future and I am very interested in having them at Ipswich," Robson told me.

"I would like them to come to Ipswich and have a look round and see if they could settle in our environment."

"The best way to do this would be at the end of their world tour and they will be invited to do this."

"Their clubs will be contacted and I hope they do not object, as the experience will be of great benefit to the players.

"I repeat that I was very impressed by their performance against us in the centenary game and I think they have what it takes to play in the English First Division."

Cole our best

The England-Australia game confirmed for me that Gary Cole is not only Australia's best striker, but also Australia's most valuable player.

This opinion was formed, ironically, in a game in which Cole for one of the few times this season, appeared to have left his shooting boots in the dressing room.

What impressed me was the trouble Cole gave to the experienced England stoppers, Terry Butcher and Russel Osman.

Cole's strength, one-touch skills, powerful running and dynamic though sometimes erratic shooting, made him a most exciting player to watch.

It is not surprising that European and American teams are showing interest in him.

The difference between Cole and his partner, Mark Jankovics, who on the night caught the eye even more than Cole in the second half especially — was that Cole knew what he was about to a greater degree than Jankovics.

Jankovics was all running, aggression and impetuosity while Cole was using his athletic ability and skills in a more controlled fashion.

Cole has acknowledged the debt he owes to Victorian State Len McKendry for coach helping him change from a raw, rangy striker to the professional front runner he is today — know how to create space, when and where to run, aware of other players, passing angles and passing opportunities.

Jankovics has yet to make that transition.

He is all flair, passion and commitment, just as are his young forward colleagues at Marconi, Eddie Krncvic and Peter Saltnoe.

I rate Cole and Steve Perry and most accomplished players in the Australian team.

Perry also in recent times has transformed — in his case from a fast effective defender who was jittery and unconvincing when in possession.

MIKE JOHNSON

sion of the ball, to a composed and utterly confident international.

He will always be limited because of his poor kicking skills, a legacy of our junior soccer system but in every other way he is a fine Australian player.

I had the privilege to discover Steve Perry and mark Jankovics on the same afternoon several years ago while watching junior soccer games in Sutherland (NSW).

They joined me at Sutherland which I then coached and I introduced both of them to first team soccer, Perry at Sutherland at 15 and Jankovics at St George at 17.

Jankovics, like Perry was not taught the basic skills of soccer as a junior and their subsequent professional performance has suffered because of it.

What a great overlapping full back Perry would be if he had the long kicking skills of the left-footed Tansey, another of Australia's better players.

While acknowledging the good second-half performance of the Australian team, there are problems at the centre of the defence and in the midfield.

If these are rectified Australia will be a formidable opponent in the World Cup preliminaries.

Leaky defence

Three members of the Marconi defence that was hammered 5-1 by Blackburn City at Gable Stadium last Sunday, will face the might of Northern Ireland at the Sydney Cricket Ground tonight (Wednesday).

They are Ivo Prskalo, Tony Henderson and Jim Muir. The three were named by coach Rudi Gutendorf in Australia's starting line-up.

Gutendorf omitted national captain Jimmy Rooney, preferring his young Heidelberg team mate Theo Selemidis. And Peter Sharne gets the nod ahead of Ken Boden.

However, Gutendorf may yet change that team, which he named late last week.

Certainly, there will be variations in the other two matches against Northern Ireland at Olympic Park, Melbourne, on Sunday and at Hindmarsh Stadium, Adelaide, on Wednesday night.

Marconi's failure against Blackburn, following its 0-3 loss to South Melbourne Hellas in the previous match, reflects the problems that have beset this great club.

There is disagreement about whether Italian star Roberto Vieri should be playing ahead of Peter Raskopoulos, there was unrest over the signing of Jim Muir from Adelaide City and the subsequent transfer of John Russell to St. George at the weekend, and striker Eddie Krncvic has been struggling for form.

Gutendorf has been working hard in training camp to ensure that the Marconi problems are not reflected in the national team's games over the next week.

THE IRISH

CHRIS NICHOLL (No. 5) climbs high in the Southampton defence to break up a Nottingham Forest attack in last year's Football League Cup final. Forest retained the trophy with 3-2 victory.

DAVID McCREERY, pictured in the colors of his country. The talented player has switched from Manchester United to Queen's Park Rangers.

JIMMY NICHOLL, attacking full back who is one of the key men in both the Northern Ireland and Manchester United teams. Played in all of Ireland's recent European championship and home international games.

MARTIN O'NEILL (left) scores for Nottingham Forest against Ipswich goalkeeper Paul Cooper in a FA Charity Shield match at Wembley. O'Neill is captain of Northern Ireland.

JIM PLATT, goalkeeper of Middlesbrough, who takes over from Pat Jennings, one of the Arsenal players who did not make the trip to Australia.

TOMMY CASSIDY, powerful Irish midfielder who plays for Newcastle United in England.

BRYAN HAMILTON, was a six pound-a-week part-timer with Linfield before stealing the limelight with some dazzling performances in the 1971 home international series. As a result, Ipswich bought him for $30,000. Originally a forward, he continued scoring regularly from Ipswich's midfield. He now plays in defence for Swindon.

DEREK SPENCE, forward who plays for English club Southend. Previously was with Bury.

...and the Soccerroos

How the hell can I stop this guy? That's what England's Frank Lampard seems to be thinking about Peter Sharpe, Australia's No. 1 weapon against Ireland.

Tony Henderson - back after injury and playing like a champion.

Theo Selemidis - he was excellent after coming on as a substitute against England, and has strong claims for a game against Ireland.

Kevin Mullen, constructive Sydney City full back recalled to the A squad for the Irish series.

Australian captain Jimmy Rooney (left) who played his 50th international against England, with Trevor Cherry and a couple of koalas.

Zafran to help Lujic overpower Perry

By CRAIG MACKENZIE

Footscray J.U.S.T. with new forward Ivan Zafran, can regain its upward momentum when it clashes with Brisbane City at Middle Park on Saturday.

Rocco Ilie's team has faltered recently but Zdravko Lujic and Dragan Vasic get the chance to enhance their goalscoring status against City defender Steve Perry and David Ratcliffe.

The clash between Lujic and Perry should be a highlight, for the Australian international right back is in sparkling form and full of confidence after his fine performance against England.

Lujic is in the process of fighting for a place in the national team and a good game against Perry could do little to harm chances.

Lujic is the finest left winger in the country and he should take the honors for he will get better support from his midfielders and Yugoslav import Zafran than will the City full back.

Newcastle United is at home to the inconsistent West Adelaide and with the defensive abilities of Arno Bertogna and Roy Drinkwater, the home team should give little away.

Whether Newcastle's forwards David Jones and David Deakin can get onto the end of the good work from Graham Heys and Craig Mason will decide the outcome.

West Adelaide's Graham Norris, Ian McGregor and Eric Carruthers will have to work like Trojans in the middle of the park to stem the flow of balls to United's twin spearheads.

Newcastle should win and add to the mounting woes of West coach Gerry Chalidi.

Two of Sydney's less glamorous teams, St. George and Blacktown City, face each other in a confrontation that should prove that Blacktown's recent revival is no fluke.

With Brian O'Donnell and Stuart Selvaie adding consistency to Blacktown's midfield, strikers Ian Hunter and Paul Wilkinson should improve their mounting reputation as an effective duo.

With Peter Freeman and Peter Cuk establishing themselves as fine players, the Blacktown defence is taking on the appearance of solidity and St. George forwards Dennis Duarte and Ernie Campbell should get few opportunities to score.

Rale Rasic will forget whatever fond memories he has of his coaching stint with the national team if former Australian captain Peter Wilson provides a stumbling block for Adelaide City's strikers Justin Fashanu and John Nyskohus.

John Brown
Socceroos' revenge

Australia will have a revenge match against England B in the English Midlands on November 17.

The match was confirmed this week as part of the Socceroos' four-week world tour.

Australia lost 1-2 to England B at the Sydney Cricket Ground last Saturday week.

The world tour will comprise eight matches, among them two against Northern Ireland.

Other possible matches are against Czechoslovakia, the Italian amateur team, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait.

BROWN NEW COACH

Canberra City has appointed its longest serving player John Brown as first-team coach.

Brown takes over from Vic Fernandez who resigned over his inability to get consistent results from his talented playing staff.

Canberra president Theo Moulis announced last week that the club had accepted Fernandez's resignation with regret and described Vic as one of Canberra's "most dedicated servants."

Publicity officer Steve Doszpot told "Soccer Action" that no-one had been approached concerning the coaching position and that John Brown had the chance to prove himself in his new role.

Doszpot said Fernandez had been "under tremendous pressure because everyone was so keen to win."

"However, there was no direct pressure from the board," he said.

"Now that we have accepted Vic's resignation we must look to new horizons," he said.

"We also accepted the resignation of Bernie Harris, one of our directors, and we are not seeking to fill the spot left vacant by Mr Harris's move."

Fernandez and Harris are the most recent departures in a season of upheaval for the PSL club that has lost president Charles Perkins and secretary Max Talbot.

Saturday penalty for Heidelberg

The Philips League has ruled that Heidelberg United must play three of its remaining home games on Saturdays instead of Sundays.

It is a penalty for not having its Heidelberg Olympic Village ground available in time.

Heidelberg United had told the league it would have the ground ready by July 1 this year.

In the meantime, the league allowed Heidelberg to share Sundays with South Melbourne Hellas.

When Heidelberg's new ground remained unavailable after the deadline, the league refused to penalise Hellas by allowing Heidelberg to continue to split the Sunday crowd.

The league ruled Heidelberg would have to play all its remaining matches on Saturdays.

But Heidelberg president Jim Mangopoulos appealed the league, claiming his club would incur heavy financial losses.

The league then compromised and ordered Heidelberg to play not all, but only half of its remaining home matches on Saturdays.

Victoria's game off

The Queensland v Victoria match, scheduled for next Monday in Brisbane, has been called off.

Victoria would have been unable to field its best team as most of its players will be in the Australian team against Northern Ireland the previous day.

The Queensland and Victoria Federations will try to reschedule the match.

Boland stops Canberra

CANBERRA CITY 0
FOOTSCRAY 0

Ref: B. Mee
Crowd: 3,300
Cautions: Boland, O'Reilly, Ollerton.
Ground: Bruce Stadium.

Canberra City showed it is embarking upon a mid-year renaissance after drawing with Footscray in a nail-biting match at Bruce Stadium.

The trauma of losing a president and coach within weeks, far from demoralising the team, has seemed to galvanise the City players into a positive frame of mind.

In the fourth minute a backheel from Terry Byrne was deflected deftly by Dennis Boland as Canberra applied early pressure.

However, Canberra's forwards — Tony Brennan in particular — found that it was difficult to pierce the central Footscray defence which was so coolly marshalled by the big men, Peter Ollerton, and Jim Kinnear.

Footscray relied heavily on left-winger Zdravko Lujic to carve open the Canberra defence.

In the 17th minute a Slobodan Jovanovic free kick was well tipped over the Canberra crossbar by Richard Wilson.

At this stage the Footscray defence was soaking up Canberra pressure effectively. Canberra failed to play the wings with any success and Footscray defenders Ollerton, Jim O'Reilly and Igor Hazabent could pass out of defence in a confident triangular fashion.

The Canberra defence, with Roy Stark re-instated, also was equal to its task and few clear-cut chances came to either team.

In midfield the battle for possession was intense. For Canberra, Isaac Farrell played a mighty 90 minutes and was Canberra's most effective ball winner.

Canberra's attack missed Sebastian Giampaolo who was married the day before. Walter Valeri toiled hard but seemed to miss his "twins".

Tony Brennan and Terry Byrne ran hard but seemed to lack the confidence to finish well.

Brennan in particular must be thinking that there is a hoodoo preventing him from scoring his first PSL goal for Canberra.

With 13 minutes remaining, a low shot by Brennan was miraculously blocked by the feet of Dennis Boland, and Brennan's best opportunity was thwarted.

As the second half progressed Canberra, using the wings, stretched the Footscray defence repeatedly with only lack of finishing power depriving the home team of a goal.

With four minutes remaining, Walter Valeri centred into the box. The ball was deflected by Boland and passed in front of an open goal with the incoming Byrne and Brennan failing to connect in a movement which surely could have produced a winner.

Footscray coach Rocco Ilic came to Canberra hoping for a draw and therefore must have been pleased with the outcome of the game and rather surprised with the new-found spirit of Canberra under interim coach, John Brown.

As for the fickle fans who harrassed throughout the renewed fervour was demonstrated when they stood at the conclusion of the game to applaud both teams off the field. — PETER KUNZ.

Adelaide City's guest star Justin Fashanu of Norwich City showed off some of his finest play in this match, especially in the second half when the Brisbane defence went to pieces.

Adelaide City coach Rale Rasic expects even more from Fashanu. "He was only playing in second gear," he said after the match.

But Fashanu worked extremely hard, he scored a good goal, set up many scoring chances which should have been put away by team mates and excelled in shielding the ball from opponents.

His height made the second half a nightmare for the home defence.

$1 mil for Fashanu?

LONDON, English Second Division Club, Newcastle United is to offer about one million Aust dollars for Norwich City forward Justin Fashanu, currently playing as a guest with Adelaide City.

Newcastle manager Bill McGarry wants 19-year-old Fashanu, a replacement for forward Peter Withe, who has joined Aston Villa.

Former Soccerero Ernie Campbell proved the king-maker for St. George in their 2-1 win over APIA-Leichhardt at Lambert Park.

Campbell, showing flair and dash reminiscent of his representative days, picked up the first goal for St. George in the 22nd minute and was on hand to slide the ball to Denis Duarte for the winner in the 76th minute.

Leichhardt had their chances. Phil O'Connor delighted the crowd with a delicate chip over Mike Fraser's head to level the scores in the 56th minute and the St. George crossbar bent twice under sledgehammer drives which rebounded well into the field in each half.

But as coach Willie Wallace said later: "If you let ease go in you don't deserve to win."

Leichhardt were hopeful before the game began that it would be the start of a three or four-match winning streak which would take them within striking distance of the top four.

Instead, they now find themselves one point ahead of equal last pair, Brisbane City and St. George.

Leichhardt started aggressively as though it was only a matter of time and by what score they would win. However, the back line of Fraser, Doug Utjesenovic and John Russell not only contained the Leichhardt attack but frequently set their midfield and strikers on the move.

New names Dave Skeen and Mark Barnes, and new signings Peter Stone and Campbell blended as though they had been playing together for years.

And the inclusion of John Russell from Marconi braced the previously brittle defence.

The first breakthrough came when a St. George raid was mainly repelled by Bob McGinn and the ball ran loose in the Leichhardt penalty area.

Campbell got there first and slammed a hard slice which edged off the post and flashed past stranded Greg Woodhouse. It took another 32 minutes of play before the Saints had the chance to applaud again.

Former Brisbane City midfielder and Soccerero prospect John Coyne floated a corner to the feet of Phil O'Connor, who headed the ball and chipped it over advancing Fraser for the equaliser.

Exactly 20 minutes later, Campbell broke free through the centre and found the unmarked Duarte who flicked the ball past Woodhouse with the side of his foot.

Leichhardt were unlucky not to grab a point in the final 10 minutes when they threw everything into attack. It was desperation defence for St. George as the ball went over the goal, over the sideline and at one stage, John Russell cleared the ball so hard for a corner that it soared over the nearby railway line and embankment to land in a paddock adjoining the ground.

Peter Wilson headed into Fraser's hands and two minutes from time, Coyne flicked the ball over his head from inside the penalty area, Fraser got his hands to it but couldn't hold it, the ball was headed back and then chested out as Fraser was scrambling to get back into position.

Duarte undoubtedly was the best player for St. George. He constantly found the gaps and was not afraid to pass the ball or take the opportunity to come forward and shoot.

St. George's Skeen and Stone played well, as did Campbell and Utjesenovic, whose experience proved so valuable under pressure.

Chaldi finds the formula

WEST ADELAIDE 1
HEIDELBERG 0

Scorer: Manecass 73rd min.
Ground: Hindmarsh Stadium.

Weather: Cold and wet.

Cautions: Norris (Adelaide), Selemidis, McMillan (Heidelberg).
Referee: Tony Boskovic 7.

The advances Gerry Chaldi has made in recent weeks was emphasised with his remarkable win over Heidelberg.

It was remarkable for many reasons.

Not only did it mean that all West's 11 PSL points now have been acquired at Hindmarsh Stadium, but it was the first time this year West has kept the opposition scoreless for two successive matches. More important, it was the first time West has won two matches in succession.

All these points augur well for West as it prepares to fly to Newcastle on Friday.

Indications are that it will win its first away points of the season.

Heidelberg came to Adelaide with the knowledge that it had never beaten West at Hindmarsh and that it was tripped up 1-0 by Adelaide City five weeks earlier.

The signs were not good for Heidelberg in the opening minutes on a cold, wet Adelaide afternoon.

West looked far more enterprising and sprayed the ball with such confidence that even St. George's stage a shock win looked likely.

Its stocks rose significantly when Graham Honeyman pounced on a loose ball with Jim Tansey stuck to his back and from a good position lammed it high into the side netting.

The grandstand erupted, thinking it was a goal — that's how close it was.

West didn't slacken off and still had the edge over Heidelberg, but there was always the feeling that if Gary Cole was given even a semblance of a chance the match would change drastically.

This almost happened in the 17th minute when Zoran Maricic fumbled and Cole pounced on it like a striking cobra.

But the tall, bustling striker who had scored 49 PSL goals (39 in all PSL competition) could not beat goalkeeper Martyn Crook who had a marvellous match, possibly his best this season.

West lost a bit of its edge towards the end of the half as Heidelberg mounted several promising raids, mainly through Jim Tansey's fine overlapping.

But West maintained its dominance in the second half although it couldn't break through Heidelberg's back four until Kosmina's great 73rd minute raid.

Manecass started the move in the middle of the ground and the former Australian forward beat three men in a dazzling run which he finished with an appalling shot.

Kosmina made amends only three minutes later when he stroked the ball to Manecass near the left hand post.

Manecass controlled the ball and calmly shot at yakka Banovic, the ball went into the inside of the near post.

The goal lifted West and in a frenzied period it could have increased its lead.

But eventually Heidelberg settled down again and it was West's turn to hang on.

West succeeded but was given a scare when Kenny Taylor, who had replaced two selemidis in the 72nd minute, skidded the ball past Crook and the far post five minutes from the end.

Heidelberg tried to expose West with several big crosses into the heart of the defence but Crook, despite the wet conditions, responded superbly and didn't fumble one ball.

West's win was ideal in a way to begin the second half of the season and, as Sydney City will discover in six weeks when it visits Adelaide, is a far different team now.

Much of its strength stems from a revitalised midfield in which Norris and McGregor played the destructive role while Carruthers adds the skillful element.

But what of Heidelberg? Certainly, it will find it increasingly difficult to stay on top but it would take a rash commentator to dismiss Heidelberg's progress from the championship race on the basis of this Hindmarsh Stadium performance.

With so many fine players, most of them in the team and Cole who looks like he will score every time he runs onto a ball, Heidelberg must still be the team to beat for the title.

Heidelberg's biggest problem possibly will be the interruption to the league because of the internationals against Northern Ireland and Chile.

With so many of its players in the Soccerero squad, it probably will disrupt the team's concentration

It was a sick and sorry Newcastle KB United that left Marks Field last Sunday night! For not only had they lost two valuable competition points, they had once again been struck by the injury bug that seem to have jinxed them all season!

This time it was their two brilliant youngsters, Arno Bertogna and Brett Cowburn, who were the victims.

Both these key men were carried off before the game was 20 minutes old.

Bertogna picked up his injury in the 11th minute following a hard collision with a Sydney City defender.

He was forced to leave the field with a kidney injury which proved to be very painful and which required hospital treatment.

In the 18th minute Cowburn dislocated his elbow in a last ditch tackle and was stretched into the dressing room before being whisked off to hospital to join his teammate.

It's little wonder that Newcastle manager Alan Vest thinks he is jinxed this year.

Despite their setbacks, Newcastle put up a plucky performance and can hold their heads up in defeat.

City got their goals late in the second half and deserved their win.

They are a thoroughly professional outfit and play to win all the time.

The most pleasing performance of the afternoon was that of the Slickers' right back Kevin Mullen.

Mullen, who has been added to the Soccerero squad for the 1980-81 season, series against Ireland, was back to his brilliant best and capped a fine performance with a goal in the 81st minute.

On this display, Mullen was the way for the right back post in the national team.

National coach Rudi Gutendorf was not at this game but his sidekick Leo Benetjaner was there to note the action.

Other Soccerero squad members Murray Barnes and Ken Boden had rather quiet afternoons, getting on with their jobs without any fuss.

Boden grabbed the important opening goal for the Slickers in the 47th minute when put in the clear by front-runner Mark Trenter.

And from 20 metres out, Boden made no mistake with a shot which landed in the corner of the Newcastle net with goalkeeper Phil Dando well beaten.

Fourteen minutes later Mullen came marauding through on the right to slip the ball past the advancing Dando and scored the points safe for the Slickers and keep them up there with a big chance in the championship race.

The first half was a tough gruelling affair with neither side willing to give an inch.

Former Leeds and England defender Paul Reaney decided to mark Murray Barnes and this cut off a great deal of the Slickers' attacking power.

At this stage the Slickers did not go wide and use their flanks and thus made little headway against the solid-looking Newcastle defence.

In the second half, the Slickers woke up and realised that by coming forward to Mark Barnes, Reaney had left a big gap wide at the back on the right side of the Newcastle defence.

They exploited this, and also began to play wide on the right.

This proved the beginning of the end for KB and with their defence drawn out wide the gaps appeared in the middle.

With a lively character such as Trenter around, this is dangerous and in fact it proved fatal for Newcastle.

The Slickers deserved their win and did enough to collect the points without being brilliant.

Newcastle tried their utmost but found the handicap of the injuries and the professionalism of City just too much for them.

After the game City coach Eddie Thomson said he was indeed happy to come out with the points.

"This was a very hard one and they never gave an inch," Thomson said.

Weather: Fine.

The opportunism of Ron Millman prevented South Melbourne Hellas from moving level with PSL leader Heidelberg United which lost away to West Adelaide.

Hellas came from behind to lead 2-1 and played more skilful soccer than Lions but did not punch enough holes in the resolute Lions' defence whose star was hard-working right back Graham Wilson.

It was thoroughly unexpected that a clash between the lowest scoring teams in the top half of the table should yield four goals.

There should have been at least one more, as George Christopoulos missed a sitter after playing a one-two with Duncan Cummings in the first minute, and also hit the post after Branko Buljevic had started a free kick over the defence.

Lions never showed the same flair as Hellas but made up for it with hard running and lots of fight.

It was certainly a far better performance than in their 0-3 loss to Footscray J.U.S.T. on the same ground earlier in the year.

Steve Hogg was involved in most of Lions' attacking moves. The former youth international who came to Lions from Canberra City certainly justified his standing in the Yugoslav Airlines Player of the Year ratings.

But the star of the match was Hellas midfielder Billy Rogers who reproduced the high work rate and tough tackling which had marked his return to top form in the previous game, against Marconi.

He did not let his comeback continued to attack with abandon even after it had taken the lead: when Lions hit back, there were not enough Hellas men back to prevent Millman from scoring.

Hellas showed its class early, with Christopoulos breaking through for that miss from inside the area and then Davidson and Alan Evans playing a one-two down the line for a dangerous cross by Davidson.

But Lions replied through Hogg whose long, hopeful shot was deflected over the bar by goalkeeper Peter Laumets.

Then Hogg squeezed between Davidson and Bertie Lutton for what should have been a Lions goal but he speared the ball past the post.

The Lions defenders were presenting Hellas with a formidable obstacle, yet they were also making some silly mistakes, for example, Col Bennett sent a ridiculous square ball from right back into the middle, hoping to reach goalkeeper Tony Scanlan.

Duncan Cummings bore down on that ball quickly and would have scored had Scanlan not reacted quickly by diving at Cummings' feet.

Lions took the lead in the 32nd minute. Laumets could only block a long, low shot by Hogg. The ball bounced off Laumets and Millman got to it before Davidson to tap it into the net.

But Hellas showed great determination in fighting back and was rewarded a minute before half time when a through ball from Evans enabled Buljevic to leave the defence behind and score from an angle at close range. He took it well, with the calm and control of a pro.

Hogg, Millman and Wilson had been Lions' stars to half time, while Bertie Lutton and Arthur Xanthopoulos had built up well out of Hellas' defence.

Hellas took the lead in the 57th minute with a somewhat lucky goal by George Campbell. Buljevic played the ball square from the left, past Cummings to the middle, where Campbell struck it and managed to just reach the ball. He couldn't give the shot any power, but it rolled past Scanlan, just inside the near post.

Lions coach Matt Carson reacted by bringing on Johan Verweij for McNaughton in attack but Verweij played much too deep to be effective as a striker.

However, in the 76th minute Tom McGregor squared the ball from the right, Millman evaded Davidson and Xanthopoulos and shot from a slight angle. Laumets, who had come out, got one hand to the shot, but it went in nevertheless.

Two things wrong with Soccerroos

By ALUN EVANS

Signing for Liverpool was undoubtedly the highlight of my career. The feeling was just too great to explain properly.

I was the first 100,000 pound teenager and the suddenness of it was incredible.

I first started kicking a ball around when I was five years old, I guess.

My father pushed me along and kept me playing throughout the early years. When I left school at 15 I joined Wolves as an apprentice.

When the Liverpool move came through I was 17½ and had only six months behind me as a professional and 16 or 17 games in Wolves' first team.

I knew nothing about transfers until the boss, Ron Allen, told me that Liverpool had made an offer and Wolves had accepted.

I was literally bugged in a car and driven along the motorway.

The next day I signed with Liverpool and found digs there.

It really was that sudden.

Playing for such a professional club is something that can never be forgotten and Liverpool is one of the greatest clubs around.

The F.A. Cup and playing in Europe are probably the high points of my career there but when I was about 22 or 23 I asked for a transfer and went to Aston Villa.

My last year with Liverpool was a bad one for I had only about six or seven first team games.

Kevin Keegan came and did well in pre-season games and when the season started he was up front in the first team and I was in the reserves.

I suppose I could have stayed if I had been more sensible but you know how it is when you are disgruntled with playing in the reserves, so I went to the boss, Bill Shankly, and asked for a transfer.

My stay with Villa wasn't very enjoyable and I suppose my two cartilage operations didn't help matters.

Villa didn't have too much success which is bad for a team that was so hell-bent on getting back to the First Division.

I played as central striker or target man — call it what you like — and I didn't really do well.

It's funny, you know, how people miss out on realising what role a player may be asked to play.

It's the same everywhere because spectators are not aware of what instructions the coach has given you.

People see you as target man and think you don't move around enough, but what is that position all about?

Certainly not racing all over the park!

In the League Cup final against Norwich I was substituted and in 1975 I moved to Walsall in Third Division.

Midway through my second season there Dave McKay took over and everything you read about McKay in the papers is true.

He really is fair and hard and we started to have success under him and it was enjoyable to play again.

But McKay went to Saudi Arabia, in search of the elusive dollar I suppose, and when my contract came up for renewal Walsall offered me only about 10 pounds a game more than I was getting, so I asked to be put on the transfer list yet again.

Shortly afterwards Hellas rang me up and offered me good terms, so I thought: why not come over here for a couple of seasons?

Third Division football in England is a pretty hard slog.

ing affair and the money is not great, so I decided to give Australia a go.

I didn't feel I did too badly in the first year over here but from the team and aid club point of view everything that could go wrong did go wrong.

Last year was terrible. I sometimes wondered if some of the lads realised that they were playing for a few bob.

But now we have the spirit and the will to win.

The administrators keep well out of the way and leave the playing side to the players and the coach.

John Margaritis must take credit for contributing to the turnaround in our fortunes.

Buying Branko Buljevic, Vince Bannon and Steve Blair and getting Arthur Xanthopoulos back is paying big dividends right now.

At the start of the year John told Frank Munro that young Steve should play instead and John also booted me out of the team once.

My initial reaction was one of disgust because I thought I was good enough to get my game, but when you think about it, this drives home the need to play well week in, week out.

I can't think I'm Alun Evans, I've got a name, I should be playing every week.

Now it's different. Our success has a lot to do with our defence. When the supporters were crying out about us not scoring enough goals the defence was giving away goals regularly.

But we don't give away goals any more and the forwards have pulled their fingers out a bit.

I honestly can say that the two recent games we played against St. George and Marconi were the best I have seen us play.

Still, there are no walkovers in the PSL.

Everyone thought that Blacktown was going to be an easy two points but they have shown that they are no easy side to beat.

Really the PSL is a pretty tough competition but it is a shame that the clubs are not closer together so that fans can flock to games both at home and away.

However, the PSL does promote the game and it is regarded as the highest class in the country, which is supported by the fact that so many PSL players staff the Australian national team.

By the way, I think that our national team is doing really well at the moment but I have two main criticisms of the squad.

Firstly I believe that Rudi Gutendorf has many fine players to choose from and I don't favour the Heidelberg Marconi block that staffs the first eleven at present.

Secondly, I think Australia looks really good when it goes forward and attacks teams rather than trying to contain.

However I think its attacking flair needs to be improved because we don't seem to be creating enough good chances.

... but things look good for Hellas

I watched the England game, fully expecting England to win by three or four goals but Australia was the team that had the chances in the second half.

I listened to some of the comments about Enghland taking it easy but as far as I am concerned results tell the story and Australia did well and easily could have drawn.

One thing that bugs me is the secondary role that soccer plays to Australian Rules football.

The media seems to promote this role and the few times that I have turned on the telly on a Sunday morning to watch the soccer it seems more like a joke spot than a soccer segment.

The pair that do the soccer at least should realise that the public watches top soccer every week on the TV and they should take their part much more seriously than they do.

Still, you can't keep soccer down, because so many kids are playing it nowadays.

The World Cup will give the game great promotion here especially if Australia makes it.

However, let's not get too carried away. Many of these Asian nations are an unknown quantity.

I'll get carried away only if Hellas wins the championship this year.

Frankfurt, thanks to Schaub

Eintracht Frankfurt has a super-star of the future in 19-year-old youth international Freddy Schaub.

It was Schaub who gave Frankfurt the UEFA Cup in the second leg of its final against Borussia Moenchengladbach.

Schaub came on as replacement for Friedel Rausch with only 10 minutes to go.

Picking up a loose ball at the edge of the penalty area, he squeezed past two tackles before sliding his shot past the reach of goalkeeper Kneib.

And so, despite having to play without injured captain Juergen Grabowski, Frankfurt beat Moenchengladbach 1-0 to take the Cup on the away goals rule.

In the first leg of the final, Borussia had won 3-2, leaving the aggregate score at 3-3.

ADMISSION 14th & 15th June $1 finals day 16th June $2

Northcote City knocked off top team Polonia in Metro division one and paraded new keeper Con Dimopoulos, signed from Altona Gate.

Other names in the Victorian Leagues news are transfer listed Dandenong City players Hugh Gunn and Geoff Daniels. Gunn has $500 on his head and Daniels is up for grabs at $800. Both prices are negotiable.

Provisional One leader Sunbury United signed Altona's Nat Little on a deal that will allow Little to return to Altona next year if he wishes.

Dandenong City will play a league game against Box Hill at Booth Reserve on Monday 16 June.

DIVISION ONE

Polonia - Maribyrnong 1 (Esposito), Northcote 2 (Tasatos 70th, Gatsonis 82nd) Maribyrnong: Dzilekowsky, Wozala, Altieri, Herman, Rachwalski, A. Czapnik, P. Czapnik, Loharski, Lalic, Krzynski, Espasita.

Maribyrnong suffered its first defeat this year when it lost at home to Northcote. Having defeated Maribyrnong twice last year Northcote was certainly confident of a repeat performance. Even though it fell behind at the 20th minute through a goal by Ralph Esposito, Northcote never gave up and was rewarded by scoring twice in the second half.

Northcote is very confident of picking up another two points against Moreland this weekend.

DIVISION TWO

Park Rangers 1 (Hargreaves) Melbourne 1 (Gooch)

Melbourne paraded new signing from Slavia Daryl Gooch who added more bite and finishing power to Melbourne's forward line.

The new striker opened the scoring when he headed home from corner but his good work was wasted when Melbourne's central defender Liu could not clear properly and Terry Hargreaves made no mistake.

Although Park Rangers had the territorial advantage, Melbourne's plan to set as many players as possible behind the ball and play on breaks could have reaped reward when Gooch broke clear into a one-on-one situation with Rangers keeper Vassiliou but failed to convert in the dying stages.

Ardeer 1 Morwell Falcons 4 (Lakay, Walker, Vanber, Davidson)

Morwell Falcons grabbed leadership of division two on goal difference when it soundly thrashed Ardeer 4-1. The Falcons were two up at half time and should have gone on and killed off their opponents but again it was unable to do so. Graham Irvine was best player ahead in this game.

DIVISION THREE

Ferntree Gully 0 Coburg 2 (Giacomi, Deans)

Ferntree Gully: Holt, Roostman, Young, Ladish, Bens, Smith, Hoek.

DIVISION FOUR

Nunawading City 4, Caulfield 0

In the second minute of its home game with bottom-of-the-table Caulfield, Nunawading broke away with Moore opening the scoring. In the last minute of the first-half Moore scored his second to consolidate Nunawading's superiority.

It was no surprise when a third goal was scored by Mullett who easily beat the goalkeeper with a shot into the corner of the net. Then Middleton, after beating two defenders, left-footed a fierce shot that gave the goalkeeper no hope of saving and put the home team four goals in front.

A.R. Split 2 Tarax 0

Industrial League first division leader A.R. Split was too skilful and strong all over the ground to down Tarax, the most serious challengers to Split for the title.

The 2-0 scoreline did not give Split credit for the chances it created and the score should have been much bigger. Tarax, boasting some former big names of Victorian soccer in Mielic, Kasi, Hadjiabdic etc., were no match for the Split stars in Cesar, Turic and the Franic brothers. The match was watched by a large crowd in a friendly and orderly manner. The man of the match Frank Franic.

YOUTH LEAGUE CENTRAL

Sunbury 2 (Boyes, Warchulski) Brighton 7 (Antonou 3, Anastadias 2 Polycarpou) Brighton's hat trick hero, Antonou, scored two simple goals before unleashing a fierce swarming shot from 25 yards that gave Sunbury keeper Helm no chance.

Fred Bennett dies

Fred Bennett, secretary of Metro Fourth Division side Caulfield City, died last week.

You may not know Fred Bennett. I met him only once but I regularly spoke to Fred by phone every Thursday.

When I rang Fred up I always pleaded with him to do "Soccer Action" a favor and get the junior ladders and tables into Soccer House as soon as possible.

Fred Bennett was instrumental in getting the junior tables for all you people interested in them.

He also took on the job of secretary with Caulfield City in response to the senior club's plea for help.

The senior club could not have asked for a more capable man to administer affairs and although he told me that he felt he had left the junior ranks a year too early he looked forward to building a sound administrative base from which the club could grow strong.

Caulfield has lost a marvellous servant but more importantly Victorian soccer has lost an enthusiastic and shrewd administrator who could have played an important part in the advancement of the game we all love. — CRAIG MAC KENZIE

The international arrives. Martin Chivers (centre) is met at Tullamarine by Frankston president Hans Gussenhoven and the man who made it possible, Del Lins (left).

Victorian State League with Craig MacKenzie

Martin Chivers' fine debut for Frankston highlighted a round of State League matches that tightened the top of the table battle.

While big "Chiv" was strolling along in complete control, George Cross was being hammered by league leader Makedonia.

Young Cross keeper Robert Amos from Werribee had a fine debut but he could do little against a front trio that Cross coach Archie Campbell thought was "dynamite".

Slavia is establishing a habit for doing well before giving games away with something stupid.

This time it was an own goal in the last three minutes that denied Slavia's fine young keeper Elvio Pugliese from keeping a clean sheet.

Billy Vojtek scored in the last minute to match a well-deserved point from Green Gully whose clash with Juventus kept the crowd on its toes till the last moment.

State League clubs will get a respite from the league struggle when Australia plays Northern Ireland this weekend.

The happiest club is George Cross which has been directed by the VSF not to play its Filipino keeper Olivera Gay due to residency problems.

Cross hopes to have the problem solved for its next league game by gaining permanent residency for its keeper.

Frankston 3 (Webb, Wall, Buchanan) WESTERN SUBURBS 0

FRANKSTON: Whitehead 3 - Wall 2, Adams 2, Parton 8 - Cooper 6, McCusker 8 (sub Buchanan 6th), Webb 9 - Wall 5, Chivers 9, Young 7 (sub Coulson 7th).

WESTERN SUBURBS: Mitandis 7 - Kyriakidis 6, Jeworad 6, Glykoulas 7, Jim Oparia 7, Greench 5, John Daperis 7, John Christodoulou 4 (sub Petroskou 6th) - Kyriakidis 4, Carr 6, Theodoridis 5.

Martin Chivers and Frankston put on a great show for the few spectators who braved the bitterly cold conditions to watch the first appearance of the former English international.

Chivers' presence was felt throughout the match and in the last 20 minutes the big man toyed with Suburbs by holding possession at will while being jockeyed by opponents who stood four or five yards away scared to commit themselves for fear of being left floundering. Big "Chiv" could have scored a couple himself but the move that set up Frankston's third goal was enough to send the local crowd home happy that the big man had proved his class.

Chivers picked up possession on the half way line and stroled past three opponents before sending young Kevin Wall into the right.

Wall cut in before unleashing a hard, low right-foot shot that went in at the near post.

The first half was an evenly balanced affair and the home side was fortunate to go in one up at the interval.

Suburbs had missed two golden opportunities to score as had Frankston and it could easily have been two apiece at half time.

In the 13th minute Steve Carr should have put Suburbs one up when he shot from six yards but Frankston sweeper Nick Lowe was on hand to slide down and clear off the line.

Lowe's clearance went to Suburbs striker Steve Kyriakidis who sent the ball into orbit from only four yards.

On the stroke of half time Carr outjumped Dave Cooper but he could not head a Kit Greench cross powerfully enough to beat Frankston keeper Billy Whiteside.

The home side had the best chance of the half when Chivers played a one-two with Wall before collecting the return and blasting a left foot shot inches wide.

Frankston's opening goal was a gem!

From a Bruce Young corner Chivers flicked the ball on as a near post and David Webb, having an outstanding game in midfield, nodded home.

Suburbs' resistance waned after Frankston's second goal in the 73rd minute.

Chivers all class!

Number two was started and finished by George McMillan.

The gangly striker coolly back-heeled the ball to Lube Petrovski and charged into the middle, meeting Petrovski's cross and slotting in a simple but well-executed goal.

George Cross must have been fairly happy to go in one down but this second goal shattered Cross's faint hopes.

Number three was a McMillan special.

The ball was cleared from a corner only as far as the edge of the area where McMillan unleashed a fierce drive that was deflected before rocketing into the back of the net.

George Cross made the deficit 3-1 when Jeff Faulkner was judged to have brought down Jim Paparis inside the area after the diminutive Cross forward had broken clear.

Paparis scored from the spot but Robert Cullen soon replied with the best goal of the game.

A long ball from the left was gathered in by Faulkner on the far post and he cut it back for Cullen to run in and blast the ball past the helpless Amos.

Cross may gain David Garthwaite from Makedonia and get John Bernard back from overseas, but the committee must improve the squad quickly because Campbell cannot continue to get the best out of a squad so short of quality.

CROYDON 2 (Loughnane, Wyllie) SUNSHINE 1 (D. Nelson)

CROYDON: Knight, McKinlay, McCusker, Pongho, Murphy - Brown, Smith, Doornenbal, Howarth - Wyllie, Loughnane.

SUNSHINE: Scholten - Singleton (in sub Scarfett 6th), Ellis, Donaldson, McRobert - Laine, R. Nelson, Muschel - Muddie (sub McKenly 6th), Pocock, D. Nelson.

Three goals in five minutes decided this hard-fought game.

The first came after 39 minutes when Jim Wyllie crossed from the right and Peter Loughnane knocked it in.

One minute later the Shiners were back on level terms when Croydon keeper Sean Keogh's bad goal kick was snappered up by Rob Nelson who played a one-two with Ray Pocock before passing to brother Dave.

Croydon right back Harry McKinlay should have cleared but he missed the ball altogether and Dave Nelson made no mistake.

A minute before half time Wyllie gained possession and his tight, close control earned its reward when he ended up in front of helpless Sunshine keeper John Sholten before blasting a fierce shot into the roof of the net.

Croydon moved into third spot with the win and its tremendous endeavour and spirit is proving a hard stumbling block for its opponents.

For the first time in many weeks Sunshine coach Ian Petherick was pleased with the overall effort from his side.

GREEN GULLY 1 (Vojtek) JUVENTUS 1 (McGuinness)

GREEN GULLY: Denny - Smart, Patten, Dunne, Crilly - Bennis (sub Perkins 6th), Bennett, Vassallo - Sapp, Vojtek, Morrey.

JUVENTUS: Ralby - Curcio, Della, Rocca, Munn, Targovilo - Henry (sub Incardine 6th), Crino, Nelson, Balducci - McGuinness, Gilbey.

Right up to the last minute the result of this game was in doubt as both sides had chances to score, especially in the last 30 minutes when Green Gully opened up and came at Juventus in search of the equaliser.

With Gully pushing forward, Juve had the opportunity to break and the crowd at Green Gully Reserve was treated to an exciting finish that ended in a fair 1-1 draw.

Neither side deserved to lose but Juventus must feel cheated by the late equaliser.

Oscar Crino was judged to have fouled Gully's Steve Crilly. Experienced midfielder Willie Vassallo knocked the free kick to the side, Bill Vojtek sped the gap in the badly organised Juve wall and his hard, low right-foot shot gave Jack Ralby no chance.

The first half was fairly even but Robby McGuinness again showed his opportunism and fine finishing when he was on the end of a brilliant move by Frank Munto to make no mistake from 10 yards out on the left.

Munro had moved forward as Juve had possession and he saw space opening up in front of him, so he carried the ball into attack, beating three Gully defenders along the way before slipping a well-judged pass to McGuinness for Juve's goal.

Chen Gully released John Patten in the last 30 minutes for a more forward role the game really opened up.

Patten twice went close. McGuinness hit the bar after heading a cross from the right. Ralby saved an Andy Segi header, but the equaliser in the dying minutes sent both teams home with a well deserved point.

ALTONA 0 HAKOAH 1 (Jordanou)

ALTONA: Van der Poel - Lewis, Connell, Murray, Wilson - Waters, Kelly, Little - Crow (Hayland 7th), Whyte, Innes.

HAKOAH: O'Hara - Wilson, Gadsby, Dossan, Rooney - G. Bennon, McNeill, Jordanou - Loh (sub Blair 7th), French, Kent.

Hakoah can be pleased to play badly and still get a result against an Altona side that was every bit as good as the victors on the day.

Both sides had chances in the first half and it was Altona that took the initiative early with Robbie Crow crossing from the right and Kevin Innes at the near post, flicking a header on to John Little who should have done better with his first shot.

Hakoah's striker Graham French should have scored from six yards but failed to connect properly and a Sean Rooney shot was pushed wide.

Altona's defender Keith Murray had little chance to beat Frank in the air but the big striker's disposal let him down.

Altona was unlucky a couple of times in the second half.

Peter Lewis hit a "screamer" from 25 yards, heading for the top left hand corner, but it curved wide at the last moment.

The closest the home team came to opening the scoring was from a corner that fell to Innes whose shot was blocked and scrambled clear.

Bill Jordanou, the most adventurous of Hakoah's midfielders, scored the decisive goal in the 81st minute when he followed in a French shot that rebounded off the cross bar.

The win lifted Hakoah into fourth spot and it seems that, with Chris Kent and Mike Loh starting to buzz out wide, the 4-3-3 formation is the answer.

letter of the law? It is happening, and there are boys missing the chance to play. Clearly, a change in the rules is needed. In the sphere of coaching, there is still too much emphasis on the physical aspects of soccer rather than on technique and ball skills.

It is pitiful to see young boys doing gruelling physical exercises while balls are lying idle. The primary school years are the ones in which boys are most adept at learning new skills, and the emphasis must be on this. Boys love to play with a ball and they should be given the opportunity to do so. During a training session there should be a ball for each player. A poor second best would be one ball between two players. At least half of each training session should be devoted to games. The other half should be used to the development of techniques and skills.

Eleven-a-side soccer is played on a variety of grounds, ranging from full-sized pitches with full-sized goals, grounds that are also used by adults, to pitches that are somewhat reduced in size and which have slightly scaled-down goals. It is played according to international rules.

These factors combine to produce a number of disadvantages as far as eleven-a-side soccer for primary school boys is concerned. There is very little ball contact per player and therefore less chance to use or to improve skills; it is wasteful in terms of space, time and manpower; it is too sophisticated a concept for all but the most mature boys.

The most skilled international players have possession of the ball during the course of a 90 minute game for an average of about six minutes.

In this short time they must summon all their skills to make the best possible use of the ball.

Young players, whose skills are much less developed would have possession of the ball for much shorter times than this during a normal 50 minute game.

They'll tackle the world

Five young stars with a common aim — the 1981 Coca-Cola World Youth Championships to be held in Australia next year.

The five are almost certain to be in the Socceroo team that will tackle 15 others in the championships, to be split up between Sydney, Melbourne, Canberra, Newcastle, Adelaide and Brisbane.

The players are:

GLENN AHERN (left), goalkeeper of the Queensland State team that finished fourth in the national youth titles in Canberra a few weeks ago. It was partly because of Ahern's agility and good judgement that Queensland did so well.

PAUL KAY (foreground, second from left), brilliant little midfielder who plays in the senior team of PSL club St George. He has speed, flair, the ability to play defence-splitting long passes and a nose for goal, as he demonstrated in the final of the national youth championships. He scored two goals in that game and his team, NSW, beat South Australia 3-2.

DAVE SKEEN (background, second from left), defender or midfielder who currently plays for St George's Federation team but is knocking on the door of the senior squad. A terrier-like, relentless player whether he's in defence or midfield.

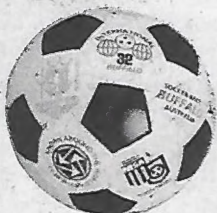

DENNIS COLOSSO (second from right) midfielder or forward from Marconi's Federation team. Dennis is the brother of Rene Colusso, the former Marconi forward who had one game for Australia before going to Italy where he plays Third Division soccer.

PAUL TOMBIDIS (right) striker from Olympic, the top team in the Western Australian State League. He scored a hat-trick in Western Australia's victory over Queensland in the third-place play-off during the national youth championships. The hat-trick made him top scorer of the championships, with a total of seven goals.

SRETN OSMOJEN BOD U KANBERI

Posle dva nastupna poraza J.U.S.T. je osvojio vizan bod u gostima, iako je igrao podjednako uigru. Odrana, na celu sa Denis Bolandom, bila je na vesini zadatka. Igrala je disciplinovano i organizovano, zbog cega nije podlegla brojnim iskusenijima, koja se pojavljuju u ovakvim prilikama, kada se navala uspava.

Najbolji igrači su bili Denis Boland, Peter Ollerton, Slobodan Jovanovic i Josip Picioane, iako je ovaj zadnji upotrebio dve idealne sanse, koje su mogle doneti "plavima" nezastuenu pobeđu.

Ovaj bod je povratio "plavima" moral, što je neophodno vazno pred utakmicu sa Brisbane City-em, koja se igra u subotu 14. juna na Middle Parku.

Za ovu utakmicu JUST ce moći da rezuna na Mirka Rujevica, cije je odsustvo premetno, i novajliju Ivana Zafrana, koji ceka na ispisnicu. Middle Park lezi "plavima", pa se ocekije dobra igra i jos bolji rezultat. Vreme je da proradi tandem Lujic — Vasic, koji je bistao protiv sedam utakmica, a onda se uspavao.

STARA DILEMA: MAKEDONIJA ILI CROATIA?

Prosele nedelje su Makedonija i Croatia povratili ritam igre, koja donosi pobeđu, iako su bili pred velikim iskusenjem, jer je najtze igrali protiv davljenika u ovoj fazi. Posel nervozne igre do odnora Makedonija je pronasla sebe i ubedljivo pobedila borbeno, ali neiskusnog George Crossa. Croatia je imala mnogo tezi posao sa Slavijom, koja je poraz dopunila igru, osudjena da gubi dobve, sa ovim pobedama Makedonija i Croatia, koje deli jedan bod, ideple su se od ostalih protivnika na celu tabele. Prvaka ce odutici ova dva kluba. Croatia je u povoljnijem poloaju, jer jurisa na prvo mesto, koje Makedonija treba da odrani, što unosi nervozu i vraća lose uspome u proslh prvenstava. Drzavna liga se odnora do 22. juna, hier iduce nedelje do 15. juna na Olympic Parku igra reprezentacija Australije protiv Severne Irke, sampona Velike Britanije.

OSTALI REZULTATI U MELBURN

DANDENONG CITY — ALTONA GATE 3:3 (3:0). Dva razlicita poluvremena. Posle odnora Altona Gate je igrala kao preporodjena, jer je izmerna igrača i mesta iz osnovne izmenila situaciju. Golove su postigli u 80. minutu Sekula Sekulovski, deset minuta kasnije Kire Veljanovski i Zoran Serovski iz penala, posto je prethodno Sekula Sekulovski srusen u proziciji iz koje se daje gol. Treba napomenuti da je odlazak Jimmy Dervusovskog u navalu bio presudan, iako sam nije postigao ni jedan gol.

KNOX CITY — FOOTSCRAY J.U.S.T. 3:1 (1:0). Knox City je nametnuo "plavima" svoj nacin igre i zaslueno odneo oba boda. "Plavi" su kao paz uvukli rogove i branili se bez cilja i smisla. Jos su strelno prošli, zahvaljujuci golmanu Aleksu Vidacici, koji je spasio nekoliko puta svoju mrežu od sigurnih pogodaka. Kada je u 80. minutu Duso Ananovski izjaku da prokrene rezultat da ce "plavi" preuzeti komandu. Na zalost mlunt kasnije sudija je svirao jedanaesterac prestrogo i Knox City je pov postao gospodar igre, koji je krunisao jos jednim golom u 88. minutu. Rezerva "plavini" je jos losije prosla. Izgubila je sa 5:0 (4:0), iako je celo drugo poluvreme igrala pred protivnicima. CARLTON/SRBIA — LANGWARRIN 4:1 (2:1). Laka i zaslezena pobeđu boljeg tima, u kome su otiskali Bosko Djordjevic, Miladin Bjelogrić i Milan Cvijic. Strelci za Carlton: Pera Kralic 2, Bosko Djordjevic i Ljuba Stojanovic. Sa ovom pobedom Carlton/Srbija se ucvrstila na prvom mestu, koje jedino moze da uzgodi Thomastown, koja je pobedila na pocetku sezone, a revans igra na svom igralistu. Iduce subote Carlton docuske Karingala na Como Parku. Rezerve: Carlton/Srbija — Langwarrin 2:3 (0:2). Strelac pocasnog gola: Drago Vujic u 70. minutu.

HAWKSBURN — CENTRAL ALTONA/SLOGA 5:4 (1:3). Nismo dobili izvestaj Hawksuburn, pa cemo ispricati Slogu verziju. Utakmica je bila uzbudljiva, fer i lepa. Same sito se krenulo sa centra Hawksuburn je poveo sa 1:0, ali na odmor se otislo sa rezultatom 3:1 za Slogu, koja je igrala kao sat. Posle odnora Hawksuburn je smanjio na 3:2, ali Sloga je ubrzo podigla na 4:2. Ostalo je jos 15 minuta do kraja, kada se trener Kito Grozdanov resio da promeni dva igrača. Posle toga Sloga je igrala kao razbijena vojka, sto je Hawksuburn iskoristilo da prokrene rezultat u svoju korist. Strelci: Ljubce Ivanovski 2, George Jovaski i Peter Risteviski za Central Altona. Rezerve: 2:1 za Slogu. Oba gola je postigao Bale Risteviski.

BANKSIA — ALTONA UNITED/VOJVODINA 0:3 (0:1). Vojvodini je potpuno nadigrala protivnika, ali nije postigao dovoljno golova, jer su navatni igrača hteli da se vsetaju sa loptom u gol. Stalozena odnora na celu sa Jovicom Cankovicem nije dozvolila domacaj navali da dodje do izrazaja. Strelci: Adam Miller 2 i Dragisa Pantic. Bolji od ostalih: Jovica Cankovic, Zvonko Bartol, Djuro Belanji i novajlija Josip Pavic, koje je ispunio ocekivanja. Rezerve su igrala nereseeno 1:1. Strelac za Vojvodinu Miro Kolarik.

NOBLE PARK — PARKMORE/PLAVI DUNAV 2:4 (3:3). Strelci za Plavi Dunav: Mihajl Djarmati 2, Jovan Seregi i Anton Ambrus. Plavi Dunav je igrao dobro same u prvom poluvremenu, kada je obezbedio pobeđu. Posle odnora je golman Pal Seletski spasio Plavom Dunavu oba boda. Rezerve: Noble Park — Plavi Dunav 3:2 (1:0). Strelci za Plavi Dunav Antal Sakac i Antal Ambrus.

TARAX — SPLIT 0:2 (0:0). Zaslezena pobeđu boljeg tima. Tarax-ova navala je igrala nekorisno i odseklala najboljeg igrača Ibru Hadziabedica, koji je retko dolazio do lopte. Slobodan Lukic je nastupio povredjen, pa je zamenjen u pocetku igre, sto je bio veliki gubitak za Taraxa. Zamenio ga je veteran Frank Micic, koji je pokusao da sredi smusene redove, ali nije uspeo. Uso je napustio teren nasmejan. Strelci za Split: Ivica Cesljari i Holovka. Najbolji igrača za Split: braca Miro i Frank Francic, bivski igrača Carlton/Srbije, Ivica Turicac i Ivica Cesljari, dok je Frank Micic bio jedina svetla tacka u Taraxu.

Juniori ispod 10: J.U.S.T. — Sunshine Heights "B" 3:1.
Juniori ispod 13: Holland Park — J.U.S.T. 6:3 (3:1). Strelci Jason Buzo 2 i Miguel Ferrer.

JUVENTUD CHARRUA 3-1
JOSE "KUKY" CISTENA
HEROE DEL CLASICO*JUEGUEN SIEMPRE ASI Y VAMOS AUNQUE NIEVE

Un clasico para la historia. Lejos el mejor partido jugado por espanoles y argentinos desde que se enfrentan en la Victoria Soccer Federation. El segundo tiempo tuvo de todo y el frio del otro mundo que hacia desaparecio ante el fervor de las dos hinchadas. UN ESPECTACULO PARA APLAUDIR.

WEST MELBOURNE/CISTENA-GARCIA-NAVARRO (C)-MOYANO-PACHECO-RUIZ-SARCO-HIMSWORTH-REFOJOS-CALOMINO- En el segundo tiempo; VALDEZ por RUIZ y LUCHINI por NAVARRO lesionado.

GOL: A los 4 minutos del segundo tiempo "Matador REFOJOS, cuando POIS salva la entrada del ingles "MALVINAS" HIMSWORTH el balón queda listo para la justeza y claridad del goleador "gauchito" BURNLEY S.C.; POIS-F.CALLE-LOCKLEY-OCHOA-SAAVEDA PINAS-GUIMAREY-ORTIZ-PIETRALUNGA-J.CALLE (C)-SAZ.

GOL: Magnifica jugada de la delantera española. Entra al area Juan FURIA Calle y con un toque de "bandera" la puso arriba del portero.

Golazo: A los 25 minutos del primer tiempo, prime ra emocion de un clasico jugado de "lujo". El planteo estuvo claro desde el principio. Los CHAVALES saben como jugarles a los GAUCHOS y ade mas, los Gauchos "dejaron" que todo el primer tiempo los espanoles mandaran en el campo. Salvo un claro penalty a MALVINAS HIMSWORTH, que jugo un gran partido y dos veces REFOJOS el resto fue un continuo deambular del equipo argentino. Dos figuras se destacan netamente y hacen que su actuacion sobresaliente disimule el resto. OSCAR "PADRINO" RUIZ y CARLOS "CHUECO" GARCIA, lo de OSCAR RUIZ para los libros lo de CHECO GARCIA un ejemplo de sacrificio y "corazon". Los CHAVALES hacen un medio campo de lucha y fuerza. GUIMAREY, ORTIZ y PINAS, en una gran traba. Para PINAS las palmas, lejos el mejor hombre espanol. Juan CALLE en la de el, un partido aparte, gano y perdio en el "mano a mano" con NAVARRO-MOYANO. Una actuacion tambien para recordar. En lineas generales el nivel fue muy bueno y destacamos a OSCAR RUIZ y "CANONAZO" PINAS como lo mejor del campo.

El publico magnifico siendo un espectador aparte PENALTY y GLORIA; El primer penal que es atajado en la historia del clasico que eleva a la categoria de heroes a JOSE "KUKY" CISTENA y deja con la amargura de su vida a FRANK "PINTA" CALLE. Lo tiro despacio, a media altura y a la derecha de CISTENA, que volo y enloquecio a la barra del bombo. Resumiendo, LOS CHAVALES siguen en camino y su equipo se consolida, para LOS GAUCHOS, Jorge "CAUDILLO" CALOMINO debe sentarse a pensar, tiene un plantel para campeon y lo debe dirigir de acuerdo a la categoria del equipo, hay errores que no se pueden cometer.

PELIGRO DE GOOOOLL
— Oscar PereaWEST BRUNSWICK 3
ASCOT VALE 1

Con cambios que demostraron que NEPO GONZALEZ "sabe" los CHARRUA con un equipo de valor es jovenes gana y muy bien, abriendo nuevas esperanzas, para un campeonato que ahora "puede ser".

WEST BRUNSWICK/LOYOLA-BALMADERA-VEZZOSO-GRANDE-D'ANGELO-J.GONZALEZ-SALVO-QUINOY-G.GONZALEZ-BILLOTTA-ALFONSO- Los goles-Gustavo GONZALEZ debutó con 17 años.

El segundo, la cuota, S.

BILLOTTA. Para concluir una tarde excepcional, para el mejor hombre de la cancha, ALVARO SALVO. El equipo uruguayo mere ce el apoyo de todos los CHARRUAS de MELBOURNE-ALFONSO 14, G.GONZALEZ 16, BALMADERA 19, QUINOY 20, ahí esta la verdad.

Con esa edad y la CELESTE en el pecho estan para un GRAN FUTURO.

ALIENTELOS, ACOMPANE AL EQUIPO, LA CELESTE tambien es suya. NO FALTE..

PABLO HERNANDEZ (El Educado) y CLA UDIO "GROOVY" DITTO, los dos 8 de cada equipo fueron dejados afuera del clasico por los D.T. sin ninguna explicacion. No los pusieron al siguiente en reserva. Dos grandes jugadores. NADIE ENTIENDE ???

MELTON S.C. 1
HOTHAM UNITED 1

Con un segundo tiempo bien jugado, LOS MOROCHOS vuelven a casa con un punto de oro. El equipo ingles del MELTON es un hueso duro, especial mente en su terreno.

HOTHAM UNITED/ROJAS-ANDERSON-JARA-NILO-FLORES-VALENZUELA-LEIVA-RUBIO-PAREDES (NIETO) CETINICH-LOPEZ.

El primer tiempo fue netamente del MELTON, la reparacion de VALENZUELA, trajo gran expectacion, debiera trabajar con el equipo y entendemos que JOE DEGUARA esta recibiendo mas que un regalo, el equipo es sin duda un "equipazo" faltando todavia ANDREA y CARDONE. Los aficionados al futbol tie nen los sabados algo muy SERIO para ver.

GOL- Buena combinacion de la delantera y el oportunismo de CETINICH.

Le dio un punto que hace mucha falta.

ALIENTE A LOS MOROCHOS PROXIMA FECHA; Locales frente al GREENSBOROUGH.
